

The UM Graduate Student Colloquium in Applied Linguistics and TESOL (The Colloquium/GSCALT)

This series aims to provide an opportunity for graduate students in the Department of Modern Languages at the University of Mississippi to present their research in preparation for submitting to journals and presenting at conferences.

A graduate student-run organization, the Colloquia will be held each month during the Fall and Spring semesters. At each event, one or two students will volunteer to present their original research. The presenters will not only improve their public presentation skills, but also receive valuable feedback on their work from their peers and the Modern Languages faculty.

Each hour-long Colloquium will ideally incorporate two 20-minute presentations followed by 10 minutes of questions and feedback for each presenter.

Currently, presentations are being scheduled for Fall 2020. We will have some more information to share soon, so please stay tuned!

If you wish to become a presenter at GSCALT, please prepare a cover page including a concise summary of your project and a picture or photograph that you think best represents your research.

Upon receipt of this document, your presentation will be scheduled for a closest possible Colloquium, and the cover page will be distributed as an invitation (as a departmental poster and via email) to your upcoming presentation.

For more information, or if you wish to present, please contact the coordinators:

Shanshan Duan sduan@go.olemiss.edu

Timur Akishev tbakishe@go.olemiss.edu

We hope you can join us this semester and help us make the Colloquium a tradition!

---

As of 13 May 2020, our team is:

Timur Akishev

Shanshan Duan

Iuliia Rychkova

Maiyojanna Pelayo

Marta Galindo